

ESTIMATED WILM. COST $47,000

REGIONAL VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Selectmen and Finance Chairmen from Bedford, Billerica, Burlington, Tewksbury and Wilmington intently questioned the Regional Vocational High School Planning Committee on all phases of the proposed undertaking at their meeting Tuesday night in the Barrows Auditorium. Finances were the main topic of discussion, although the Planning Committee repeated again and again that the costs cannot be determined until after each of the five towns has agreed by vote in town meeting to join into a region for the purpose of constructing a regional vocational school. At times, the discussion seemed to be of the chicken and the egg variety, with Selectmen and Finance Chairmen insisting that their town meetings would not vote for joining the re-operating cost for Wilmington is $47,000.

The proposed school as now planned includes a four year high school plus a two year post graduate 'technical phase' to be added at the discretion of the Regional School Committee when deemed feasible. Some of the Selectmen and Finance Chairmen objected to the automatic inclusion of the 'technical phase' in the plans, arguing that while their towns might vote for the four year high school, the mandatory inclusion of the 13th and 14th years might cause the town to reject the entire idea. The Planning Committee agreed to meet at the close of the general meeting to discuss making the 'technical phase' an option to be picked up by the towns at a later date, rather than an automatic part of the regional plan.

PLANNING COMMITTEE: Of the Regional Vocational School, as they appeared in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium Tuesday night. Bernard McMahon of Wilmington is not shown. Others in the committee (l to r) are: Bullen, Tewksbury; Pelletier, Wilmington; Keane, Wilmington; Haigh, Burlington; Menzies, Billerica; Committio, Bedford; Dulong, Burlington; Glavin, Billerica; Rogers, Bedford; King, Bedford; Tracy, Bedford and Mrs Anderson (partly hidden behind clerk) from Tewksbury gion until they knew exactly how much it was going to cost, and the Planning Committee reiterating that they wouldn't know the exact cost until after they had joined into a region.

Planning Committee Finance Chairman Wally Haigh of Burlington reported the approximate figures for construction and operation of the school as estimated by the Planning Committee. Total construction cost is estimated at $3,600,000, of which 65% will be reimbursed by the state. Operating costs are estimated at $480,000 per year, 50% of which will be paid by the state. Haigh emphasized that all the estimates were 'top dollar', and that it was highly unlikely that any costs would exceed the estimates of the Planning Committee.

The average cost to Wilmington for construction of the school will be $35,200 per year over a ten year period. After the ten year bond is paid off, only the operating costs will remain to be paid by the towns. The estimated yearly

The meeting was chaired by John Glavin of Billerica. Richard Keane, Bernard McMahon, and Dick Pelletier represented Wilmington on the Planning Committee. Brochures containing information on the plans for the vocational school are being prepared for distribution to the voters prior to the special town meeting.

Board of Appeals decisions

The Wilmington Board of Appeals, in decisions handed down August tenth, had two denials of appeals, and one approval.

Approved was the appeal of David G. Newhouse of Boutwell St., for a variance on a lot on that street.

Newhouse, on July 20th, told the board that he wished to build a home on Boutwell Street, on a lot of land with 122 foot frontage. The Zoning Law calls for 125.

The lot met all other requirements of the zoning by laws.

There were no abutators or interested persons who spoke at the hearing.

Turned down was an appeal of John A. Lucci, 211 Lowell Street, on an application to adjust the line of the curbstones in front of his store, to avoid hardship.

Mr. Lucci also appeared before the board on July 20th. He told the board that his original plans had shown curbing to be installed in front of his store, but that he had never installed it. The plan presented to the board bore the date of April, 1965, and shows a minimum of curbing to be installed.

Lucci told the board that he is planning to erect a new building, and that the Building Inspector will not give him a permit until he has installed curbing to conform to his original plan.

James Banda, of the Planning Board, stated that the board was against the variance, and that Mr. Lucci should install the curbing. An abutator, Robert Ashworth, had no objections.

The board voted unanimously to deny the request, and further stated that all details, as shown on a plan submitted to the Building Inspector for which a building permit is issued, must be completed before any consideration is given to other permits.

The Diamond Crystal Salt Company of Burlington Avenue, was denied a permit to sell loam, excess from construction, out of town.

The hearing was held on July 13th. Sanford Carlisle Jr. appeared for the company, and said that the loam had been stripped from the surface of a new parking lot area. It amounted to 1,000 to 1,300 yards. All must be disposed of save a few hundred yards to be used on the site for landscaping.

The only bids he had received, he said, were from out of town contractors.

There were no abutators or interested persons who appeared before the board.

In denying the appeal, (unanimous) the board stated that there is too little loam left in the town, and that every effort must be made to sell in town.

MASTER'S DEGREE FOR MAUREEN HALPIN

Miss Maureen Halpin of Stoneham, a mathematics teacher in the Wilmington High School, has been awarded a degree of Master of Arts in Mathematics, at a special mid-summer Commencement at Bowdoin College, in Maine.

Miss Halpin was one of twelve candidates to receive degrees from Maine's oldest institution of higher learning.

She received her AB degree from Emmanuel College.

DONALD COOLIDGE WILL SPEAK AT ROTARY

Donald Coolidge of Lake Street, Wilmington Rotary's ambassador to Japan, will be the featured speaker at the Rotary Club meeting, next Wednesday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Bill Butt, acting president.

Representative Fred Cain of Wilmington has announced that Michael Sullivan, Property Manager of the Right of Way Division of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works will make a survey of state owned property in Woburn that may be used for a new Registry of Motor Vehicles office, to serve the people of Woburn, Reading, Burlington and Wilmington.

General McLaughlin of the Registry of Motor Vehicles was advised by Mr Cain Tuesday that Mr Sullivan may possibly find a site that will be suitable for both a Registry of Motor Vehicles office, and an office for the Employment Security Division.

The establishment of a permanent Registry office in Woburn was announced several weeks ago by Rep. Cain and Senator Long.

ROSE DUKUS NAMED TOWN'S SECRETARY

Miss Rose Dukus, of 248 Middlesex Avenue has been appointed Secretary to Town Manager Richard Henneberger. She will start her new work on Sept. 1st.

A Wilmington High School graduate, 22 years old, Miss Dukus has been employed for the past four years as Secretary to the Plant Manager at the Stauffer Chemical plant in North Woburn.

THE 1965 TAX RATE

The resignation of Principal Assessor Fred Grimes, which becomes effective on Sept. 17th may possibly lead to further difficulties in the Wilmington Assessment Picture.

Last year, it will be remembered, after the valuations on business and industrial land had been raised, there was a law suit, leading to a Scotch Verdict in the courts, in that the town was sustained but the court added that it would consider more evidence.

This year there has been a statement by Mr. Grimes that he has been raising valuations on residential land, and that about 20% of the residential land has been affected.

No one knows what 20% other than Mr. Grimes, and possibly Mr. Russell, of Andover, who has been assisting him.

It is quite possible, after the tax rate has been announced, that the owners of the land will be happy. On the other hand they may be quite unhappy. Only the future can tell.

If Mr. Grimes announces the rate next week, as well he may, it will be extremely difficult for the tax bills to be printed, processed and mailed before he leaves. A crash program might allow the bills to be mailed by September 22, but Sept. 25 or 30 is a more likely date.

It is possible that Minot Anderson, who is being appointed Temporary Principal Assessor, after the departure of Grimes, might have a lot of questions to answer, without having participated in the 1965 assessing work.

Perhaps it might be smart to appoint Mr. Russell the Temporary Principal Assessor.

WHY BUILD SIDEWALKS?

Sidewalks are built to be used in the interests of safety. There are many instances in the recent history of this town where parents have asked the selectmen to build sidewalks. The justification was that the children would use them on their way to and from school. Much money has been spent as a result.

Last March this paper took the time to count High School children, on their way home, on Church Street. There were a total of 47 observed. 4 were on the sidewalk, and the rest in the street, many of them hitch-hiking.

It is against the law to 'thumb' rides from the streets of Wilmington. One must stand on the curb while asking for rides. Obviously a lot of children have not been informed.

Church Street is not the only example. Every street in town with a sidewalk has its quota of young folk out on the streets. Grove Avenue is notorious in the summer with youngsters in bathing suits sometimes walking eight abreast on the street.

It is useless to expect the police to enforce the anti-hitch-hiking law, for the children involved are all juveniles, and there is just too much difficulty involved for the police.

The answer of course, is education, and that education should come from the home.

And while the parents are being blamed in this column for the attitude of their youngsters, the officials of the town are exhibiting an equal degree of mental laziness.

About seven years ago the Planning Board of Wilmington produced a study on the ideal way to have sidewalks constructed.

The outstanding feature of the study was that all sidewalks should have 'planting strips' - green grass between the hard surface and the street.

The reason for the strip was not to produce green grass, for the homeowner to mow, but to provide a place for snow, piled up by snowplows, to be, without blockading the sidewalk.

With a planting strip, the clearing of the sidewalk of snow is easy. Without it the homeowners have to fight with ice and compressed snow pushed up by the plows.

At the present time a sidewalk is being constructed along Middlesex Avenue, from St Thomas Church to Clark Street.

There is a planting strip for this sidewalk, but it is there purely by accident. It was not planned - it was just too much bother to cut down the trees.

The sidewalk which was constructed six years ago along Boutwell Street, to the Boutwell School, has no planting strip. Nor has the most recent one, along Middlesex Avenue, in North Wilmington, just this past year.

School children do not pay attention to the safety offered by sidewalks, and town officials do not pay attention to the recommendations of the Planning Board.

PHILIP McNIFF

The people of Wilmington can congratulate themselves that the Board of Library Trustees named Philip J. McNiff to be the Library Consultant for Wilmington's new Public Library.

Just this past week Mr. McNiff was named Librarian of the City of Boston.

In his work for the Wilmington Library Board and with the architect employed by the Permanent Building Committee, Mr. McNiff has been quiet, but logical and tactful. He has made many suggestions which were obvious and practical, for the design of the new building, and all have been agreeably assented to by the architect.

It might well be that the new library will be something of which Wilmington can be proud. If such is the case it will be due to Mr. McNiff's genius.

TOWN NOTES

Rainfall

Wilmington received a total of 1.05 inches of rain, in the past week. The thunderstorm of last Thursday had water running down the streets, and giving the town a much needed washing. The total rainfall was .75.

Saturday there was .01 inches, and Sunday .29, in a long slow drizzle.

Felice Vitale

Felice Vitale of Woburn Street is presenting a problem to the Board of Selectmen, but not the kind of problem that he imagines to be the case.

A very nice fellow, in fact he is extremely pleasant, Mr. Vitale attends all Selectmen's meetings in his self-appointed role of Guardian of the People.

He believes that he has a right to speak up, and give his opinion at the Selectmen's meetings, and he does so frequently, sometimes to the annoyance of others present. The Selectmen, of course, could eject any person who does not abide by their rules for a meeting, but they have refrained, perhaps because they do not wish to create a scene. Mr. Vitale, they realize, does mean well, even if he does not have the right to speak which he claims.

A couple of months ago he was given a chance to explain himself by being put on the agenda. Since then he has been merely in an 'observer' role.

Monday night Mr. Vitale told the Board of Selectmen that he has written to the Attorney General asking for an opinion as to his 'rights', and if the opinion is in his favor, he said further, he is going to sue the entire board.

Telephones

Some of Wilmington's places of business have, instead of an ordinary telephone a pay station. The owner obviously doesn't have too much business of his own, and perhaps the clients are always trying to use the company phone, so he had to have a pay station in self defense.

As a result of the August first changes in the telephone system many of the pay stations had their numbers changed.

It's raising hob with some of the business men of town.

Another change that wasn't expected is for those people who had extensions on their phones. They used to be able to call the other phones by dialing 1199 or 1197.

Now that has gone. No longer can the other phone be reached by dialing any number. The operator has to be called, and asked to dial the number of the telephone.

Again some of the businessmen are disgruntled.

Planning Board

Room available since last March?

The Planning Board, Tuesday night, mindful of the $16,000 it has for planning purposes this year, agreed to start discussions with the firm of Edwards & Kelcey, of Boston, in an effort to use the money, or part of it, in conjunction with Federal reimbursements, under the so-called Chapter 701 provisions.

All members were present except Joe Slater, who is still ill. The discussions will take place next week, in an 'unofficial' meeting.

Boiled down after several hours of discussion, the list to be discussed is:

1. Revise and update the Zoning By Law.
2. Update the 1957 General Plan in the following areas (a) Population Study, (b) School Site Location (c) Circulation Plan and (d) General Land Use Plan.
3. Update the Capital Outlay and Budget Plan.
4. A Traffic and Circulation Survey.

In the beginning of the two hour discussion Chairman Rounds began to recapitulate what had been done so far, and announced that about $4000 had been allocated for studies, mostly with Planner Sam Snow of Lexington.

Danny Gillis carried the recapitulation further by listing projects and completion dates, and noting that the work is being accomplished on schedule, although nothing has yet been completed.

The accomplishments as listed by Gillis included a reprinting of the Zoning By-Law and Map; adding a Driveway By Law, adding Parking Regulations, and a revision study of the Subdivision Regulations.

The target date, he said, was October 21st, and he believed the projects were going along well enough to be finished at that time. The next project on the agenda, he said, was a revision of the Town wide Land Use Map.

Some of the Discussion

Reports have been received from some of the town boards, with suggestions as to what should be in the studies. A long list has been submitted by the League of Women Voters.

When Rounds opened the meeting to a discussion of Planning Projects Jim Miceli had a list of four items, which he submitted. Some of these had previously been submitted.

Miceli's list included 1, Update the Sub-Division rules and Regulations, 2 Update the Base Map, 3, Update the Master Plan, with reference to the Recreation Program, Transportation, Public Buildings and Planning Districts, and 4, Update or create a new Capital Outlay Budget.

He also suggested, later, that there should be a study as to the location of new gas stations.

Gillis: Why cannot we have a study on how to enforce the Zoning By Laws?

Rounds suggested several items including the updating of the 1957 population study, and a school site study, and then suggested a new Recreation Study.

Gillis: We had that in 1957 - Greenbelt and All - and then nothing ever happened!

He went on to say he had been talking with the Recreation Commission about organized playgrounds in conjunction with the building of new schools.

Miceli: How about building swimming pools in future new schools?

Gillis: (Aghast) We have a problem now in paying for schools. A swimming pool would cost $250 thousand.

Miceli: Woburn built one for $80,000, and that was before reimbursement.

Rounds noted that there had been no reply from the Finance Committee, in the letters from the various boards about suggested items for study. Maybe the Finance Committee would like a new Capital Outlay Program?

Gillis: I talked with the chairman last Sunday. They have been having their troubles in getting quorums for their meetings because of the summer vacations. I think we should have a joint meeting.

The discussion went on and on. Finally Bloom suggested that the board just pick a few items, and 'zero in' on those. The other members agreed.

Tonello

The meeting began with a meeting with Mr. Tonnello of Tewksbury who was present to discuss a reduction of the 'bonding' on his Marcia Road extension development.

The board was unable to discuss the bonds. Alphonse Savignac, Town Engineer, was to have submitted figures, and Mr. Savignac was on his vacation. Mr. Tonnello left.

'As far as I know, this is still the case' Gillis said.

He suggested that the planning board should 'try to get it cleaned up'. A letter was dictated to Mr. Savignac, who is to see what can be done.

Newhouse Development

David Newhouse presented a 'preliminary' plan, for a new development, off Boutwell Street, with a street that he proposed to call Presidential Drive.

The new street will be nearly parallel to Taft Road, and will lead up onto a rocky hill which Mr. Newhouse owns. Over an hour was spent discussing the complexities of two lots, which are facing Boutwell Street, but without a definite conclusion.

Middlesex Canal

Chairman Rounds produced a copy of a story which had been in Tuesday's Boston Globe, which largely reproduced a story which had been in the Town Crier several weeks ago, about the possibility of using the defunct Middlesex Canal for the purpose of transferring water from the Concord River in Billerica to the Ipswich River in Wilmington. The water would be for the use of four downstream towns and cities.

Rounds recalled a meeting with the firm of Alwood & Blackwell, last spring, in which the firm had displayed a plan. He remembered that the plan showed 'four or five' large ponds or lakes in Wilmington.

Two New Gas Stations

The Selectmen's Meeting

North Wilmington will have at least one, and perhaps two new gasoline stations as a result of action taken by the Board of Selectmen Monday night.

John Elia appeared with his attorney, Alan Altman, to accept the three restrictions stipulated by the Board, at the hearing of two weeks ago, for the continuance of his license. The Board voted three to one not to revoke his license, with Selectman LaRivee voting for revocation, and Mrs Drew not voting.

Attorney Joe Courtney then appeared on behalf of his client, Mr Florenza, to request a permit for the underground storage of 16,000 gallons of gasoline at his site adjacent to Photon, on Middlesex Ave. Courtney pointed out that there is currently only one gasoline station in North Wilmington, or on Route 62, between Burlington and North Reading. Courtney told the board that what his client was requesting is a permit for immediate construction of a gasoline station. 'This will be no 'pocket' license' Courtney said. 'The gasoline station should be in operation in less than a year'.

There is some question as to whether or not Elia intends to utilize his license. Under the restrictions laid down by the Board, he has a period of three years in which to decide.

At the outset of the hearing on the gasoline storage permits, Selectman Paul Niles moved that the Florenza case be considered first, since his case came first chronologically. LaRivee objected, saying that the Board had agreed to table the Florenza matter until a decision had been made on Elia's license. Niles' motion was defeated three to two, with Black, Drew and LaRivee voting in the negative and Niles and Bender voting in the affirmative.

Altman told the Board that the restriction that the license must be activated within three years was perfectly acceptable to his client. He took issue with the second restriction of the Board, which stated that the station must fall within the provisions of the zoning by-law without recourse to the Board of Appeals.

Altman pointed out that under the zoning by-law, signs could be erected in a General Business area only with the permission of the Board of Appeals. Consequently, the action of the board of Selectmen constituted discriminatory action against Elia. Mrs Drew replied that she had no such intention, in drawing up the restrictions, and the board agreed to waive the restriction on going to the Board of Appeals insofar as it would become cessary for the purpose of erecting signs.

The final restriction, that the access to the gasoline station must be approved by the Police Department and the Superintendent of Schools, was amended to read: 'must be approved by the Board of Selectmen'.

Voting Order

Selectman Charles Black objected to the voting procedure, when Mrs Drew called for the vote on the Elia permit, on whether or not to revoke the license.

Mrs Drew called on him to vote first. 'Do you vote 'yes' or 'no' Mr. Black?' she asked. Black objected to being called on to vote first, and to the procedure. 'But this is the way we always vote' Mrs Drew countered. After some further inaudible statements Black voted 'no' (not to rescind), followed by 'no' votes from Niles and Bender. LaRivee cast the sole vote in favor of revoking Elia's permit.

The board proceeded to the Florenza request. Atty. Joe Courtney told the Board that since there was only one gasoline station in North Wilmington, and since the property in question was zoned for industrial use, he felt that there was no reason why his client should not be granted the gasoline permit. Selectman LaRivee announced that he wished to make a statement. He wanted to remind the Board that he called in his vote two weeks ago in favor of revoking Elia's license and that 'the Board is not here to subsidize business.' Following LaRivee's statement, the Board voted unanimously to grant a license to James Florenza.

Planning Board

Messrs. Austin Rounds, Danny Gillis, and Jim Miceli, members of the Planning Board, appeared before the Board with a request to have the proposed Driveway By-Law put on the warrant for the special town meeting to be called sometime in October. The letter from the Planning Board to the Selectmen concerning the Driveway By-Law appeared to have been misplaced. Town Counsel Buzzell had not yet rendered an opinion and consequently, the whole matter had to be postponed until a copy of the letter could be sent to Mr. Buzzell.

Selectman Black asked Rounds if the Planning Board had any intention of making a general revision of the zoning by-law in the near future. Rounds answered that no general revision was contemplated for the present, however, the Planning Board is currently engaged in 'up-dating' the by-law and revising the sub-division control section.

Black then asked if the Planning Board had any intention of rezoning the area between Park and Concord Streets to industrial. He said that the reasoning had been suggested by Consultant Sam Snow and that it was his impression that some industries were interested in that particular area. Dan Gillis replied that the Planning Board had no knowledge that would make this a priority item and Jim Miceli asked the Selectmen if they were aware of anything that should be communicated to the Planning Board concerning the rezoning of this area. Lloyd Bender moved that the Board go into a ten minute executive session with the Planning Board, and the motion was passed.

Burlington Avenue

Dan Gillis, after the executive session, said that some residents of Burlington Avenue had asked him to convey their feelings to the Selectmen that the hearing on the widening of Burlington Avenue and the installation of sidewalks had been a 'railroad job'. Gillis said that he regretted the harshness of the sentiment, but he had been asked to communicate it, nonetheless. Mrs. Drew stated the hearing was 'chaos', and it had been necessary for her to close the meeting because she couldn't get a vote. She had called for a vote three times, she explained, but couldn't get anyone to pay any attention. 'I don't want the people of the town to think I'm fighting with the people on Burlington Avenue', she added, 'but we're going to widen it and we're going to put in sidewalks.'

Bender and Niles pointed out that the residents of Burlington Avenue had been given every possible consideration. The town had even staked off all the property so that everyone could see exactly how the widening of the street and the installation of sidewalks would affect his property.

Skating Rink

Jim Miceli of the Wilmington Jaycees and Jay Tighe of the Wilmington Skating Club came before the Board to request an article be included on the warrant for the special town meeting in October, permitting a twenty-year extension of the lease on the skating club and rink at Chestnut Street. Miceli explained it is the intention of the Jaycees to sub-lease the property from the Skating Club and renovate the building and the rink. Last month the Jaycees put in 100 man hours on renovating the building, and have made considerable progress in that direction.

'The Skating Club simply hasn't the manpower to maintain the property,' Jay Tighe told the Board. The Jaycees wish to take over the maintenance of the Skating Club and Rink as a service to the community. The rink will be open to the public this winter, and the building will be available to civic groups. The Selectmen voiced their approval of the idea, and said that they would refer the lease-

State Championship

Shamrocks still in competition

The Shamrocks, sponsored by Harold Foley of the Shamrock, are still in the running for the championship, in the Massachusetts State Finals, for Slow Ball.

The Eastern Area champs were in Palmer, Saturday and Sunday, but the games were called Sunday because of rain.

When the games were called the Shamrocks had played two games; losing one to the Golden Cue team from North Attleboro, 15-3, and bouncing back to win over Ray's Flowers, of Fall River, 15 to 5.

Two teams are still undefeated: The Millbury Old Timers, from Millbury (last year's champs) and Teddy's Spa, from Worcester.

In addition to the Shamrocks, the Sons of Italy, from Lynn; The Golden Cue, and the Palmer Package, the host team, have lost one game. Four other teams have been eliminated, by losing two games.

McLeod Field, in Palmer, where the matches were held last Saturday and Sunday, was crowded with spectators. Because of the number of teams in the competition some had to play at the nearby Legion Field, with Wilmington's Shamrocks being one. They played at Legion Field for both games.

The games next Saturday and Sunday are all to be played at McLeod Field. The Shamrocks will play The Golden Cue team at 3:15 pm, and at 4:30 the Millbury and Ted's Spa, the two undefeated teams, will play.

If the Shamrocks win their first tilt they will play the winner of Palmer Package - Sons of Italy game, which was the game which was stopped by the rain last Sunday. The score, in the third inning, when the game stopped, was 8 to 6, with the Sons of Italy on top.

If the Shamrocks win in the second game they will meet the loser of the Millbury-Ted's Spa game, for the Semi-Finals, Sunday evening, at 7.

The finals will be at 8:15 Sunday, but there is a possibility that there will be a second game in the finals, which would be at 9:30, to determine the championship.

Dick Ethier had seven hits, for seven times at bat, and a home run in the two games that Wilmington has already played. Dave Newhouse had a three run homer in the second game. Eddie Casey had a triple, and hit well in both games

Mc Donald Resignation

With extreme regret and appreciation for years of excellent service, the Board of Selectmen accepted the resignation of Bruce McDonald from the Board of Appeals. Richard D. Howlett of Gowing Road was unanimously named to replace McDonald.

Gravel License

Arthur W. Williams of Main Street was granted a license for removal of gravel from his property. Mr. Williams, whose property is on Route 38 adjacent to the Woburn line, wished to level a hill behind his house in order to make a play yard for his children.

Town Manager's Report

TM Richard Henneberger made his first report to the Selectmen, and was praised for his addition of explanatory notes to the agenda, a practice which he will continue with the grateful approval of the Board. Henneberger and the Board covered routine matters such as the methods of handling the composition of the agenda and reports, and the treatment of the mail.

No definite date was set for the Special Town Meeting pending the meeting, Tuesday night, of the Selectmen from the five towns involved in the planning of the regional vocational school.

The Selectmen will meet on September 13.

Felice Vitale is observing the meeting with folded arms, and with an open book in his lap is Planner Sam Snow.

Democrats Picnic

Harold McKelvey was the man of the hour, in one sense, at least, last Saturday, at the annual Town Democratic Committee, held at Fred Cain's on Main Street.

Mr. McKelvey had volunteered to 'chairman' the 'prize' table, where money is raised for a good and worthy cause, by the selling of chances.

The first prize was a basket, with a dozen assorted bottles in it - nice pretty bottles, and there were other prizes as well.

Just after sunset, when all the tickets had been sold, Senator Donahue, President of the State Senate, was induced to draw the prize winners names from a hat.

The first name the Senator drew, the winner of the basket, was that of Harold McKelvey.

Somehow - somehow, the listeners felt, this was a joke, and there would be a laugh soon - for, after all, Mr. McKelvey was the man who had been working hardest at the selling of chances.

But it wasn't a joke. Harold hoisted the basket to his shoulder and bore the prize off to his car!

PBC Meeting

The pre-discussion meeting of Permanent Building Committee, Monday night, was about the Carling Golf Tournament, and how Michelson had had a birdie that afternoon.

The minutes were read. It was moved to meet with the Library Board later that evening. A request for payment of a bill from Emmons, Fleming & Bienvenu, for $250 for library surveying was approved.

Then followed half an hour's reading of many many letters from the contractor of the West Intermediate School, to the architect, and from the architect to the contractor. In essence - why such wonderful, dry, construction weather has been permitted to be wasted by the contractor, which is behind in its construction schedule for the school.

The comments were numerous and succinct.

Currier: How did they get off with two truckloads of loam?

Harrison: Sharpshooters - any change at all will cost plenty.

Currier: Have you seen the road-way? Take a look at the boulders. You know what will happen when frost gets under the asphalt?

Barry: Where are the completion reports? Who approved the source of the gravel?

Michelson: Same old story as at the MDC Police Station - same contractor, same problems. Not enough workers; we've notified him in every way. I'm not at all happy.

McClure: $1215! Listed changes!

Michelson: Since when do you allow a 7% profit on credits? Since when are doors free? - no credits given us.

Currier: September first is coming awful fast. Where is his steel? School will sit idle all winter?

Then followed a hearty discussion on what the members considered to be a lack of compaction tests, gravel tests, concrete and cement tests. Barry voiced the opinion that there should be someone checking the mixing of the cement, as well as pouring.

The PBC then moved to another room to meet with the Library Board of Trustees.

Ralph Kelman, Chairman of the Board of Library Trustees and Mr. McNiff, the consultant, presented the final rough drawings which have the approval of the Library Committee. Only one change was to be to be effected - that of moving a staircase to the mezzanine.

The whole committee was most jovial at the great step forward in bringing to Wilmington a library of which it can be proud. This, they felt, is the culmination of the labors of at least two generations of Wilmington pro-librarians, and in the words of Miss Franklin Allen: 'It's wonderful -- we're delighted, everything is going just fine.'

The cost estimate deadline, for Federal funds application is Sept. 30th, and from 25% to 35% of the cost is expected to be allowed by the Federal government.

The final preliminary plans are to be ready for Sept. 15th.

The plans as they are at the present time are for a building of from 21,000 to 22,000 square feet. Mr. Kelman mentioned a half a million dollars as a rough cost estimate.

The PBC then left the Happy Library Group for the problem of the West School construction, and it was moved and voted to send a letter to the contractor as well as to Architect Guarino's assistant, who was present that: (Michelson) 'We want complete reports, the whole story, the time of day, temperature, total of pour, who took slump test, and who specified mix'. It was also resolved that there should be personnel at the mixing plant.

It was voted to hold the next meeting on Sept. 7, 1965.

The meeting was over at 9:51pm

David Gordon's Bar Mitzvah

First in 20 years

The Bar Mitzvah of David Gordon, in the North Wilmington Synagogue last Saturday, was highly significant to the Jewry of Wilmington.

It was the first Bar Mitzvah for any Wilmington Jewish boy, to be held in Wilmington, in over twenty years.

And, although held in the old Orthodox rites, it signified a blending of the two groups of Jews, in Wilmington, the blending of a division which had existed for a long time.

Rabbi Dr. Sidney Leeder presided.

Modern Jewry, in the United States, has three divisions, Orthodox, Conservative, and Reformed.

The Orthodox conduct their services in the manner and language of their forefathers, i.e. in Hebrew and, among other things, having the sexes strictly segregated.

All conform to the rule that in order to conduct services 10 male Jews must be present, but the Conservatives use some English in their services, and the Reform services are practically all in the English language.

In Wilmington, many years ago, the younger element broke away from the Orthodox synagogue, and formed a Wilmington Hebrew Community Center. The two organizations existed, on the same street but with sparse membership for many years.

About two years ago, probably at the suggestion of Rabbi Leeder, the two groups joined together, and formed Temple Shalom.

Since then services have been held in what was the Community Center quite regularly.

So when the Bar Mitzvah of David Gordon was held in the old Synagogue there was a symbolism that was highly pleasing to every Jew in Wilmington.

The Bar Mitzvah, of course, is the rite by which a Jewish boy is accepted into a man's estate, within the Temple, and allowed to take part in the services. It can be compared to Confirmation in some of the Christian churches.

Sometimes the Bar Mitzvah ends with the young man carrying the Torah, the sacred Book of Laws, around the temple, and such was the case Saturday.

Rabbi Leeder put all the significance possible into the services. At the conclusion of the Bar Mitzvah the Torah was spread on the Altar, and each male Jew, in turn was asked to come up and read from the sacred scroll.

Each read portions of his own choosing, in the original Hebrew of course, and after finishing each Jew ceremoniously shook the hands of the others at the altar. As each man returned to his seat with his family (the sexes were not segregated) the onlooker could behold the inner satisfaction, on the face of the man returning from the Altar.

It was an event that will never be forgotten by those Jews who participated.

Planning Board

that were being designed to act as reservoirs.

Rounds described the ponds as 'good-sized' and thought that one of the sites was behind the High School (evidently in the Maple Meadow Brook area, Ed.)

Gillis: The Conservation Commission is on top of that!

Meeting Place

Rounds reported that he had received the keys for a room in the 'Hiller' house, owned by the Middlesex County National Bank, and that he went down there, but the keys wouldn't work.

He read a copy of a letter written on March 19, 1965, in which Robert M. Edgar had offered the use of the rooms to former Town Manager Bouchard, at no cost to the town, and on a 'tenancy at will basis', but with the provision that the Planning Board would have to provide its own furniture.

Gillis

Danny Gillis suggested that the Planning Board should have its own attorney, to help with the enforcement of the By-Laws 'such as the Board of Health has SI Cutter'. There was little response from the other members.

He went on to say that he had learned that an agreement made between the town and the five firms who had advanced money for planning purposes, had never been signed. 'We could be spending money we do not have'. The board agreed to write a letter to the Town Manager about it.

Referring to a letter received several weeks ago from Mrs. Philip Buzzell, Gillis suggested that the board should 'alert' the Selectmen, Finance Committee, Permanent Building Committee, and others, that there is a suggestion for the use of the Public Library, for a meeting place for the Wilmington Historical Society - 'just so someone doesn't tear it down'.

It was voted that a letter should be sent to Mrs. Buzzell, acknowledging her suggestion, and that copies of the answer should be sent to all interested boards, as a notice to them. Mr. Gillis is to write the letter.

Gillis shifted his subject to the skating that took place on the Common last winter.

'We had a long hard process of converting a quagmire into a Common', he said. 'We spent $2,000, it was expensive'.

He went on to say he was disturbed that there was skating there last winter, that it would ruin the Common, and suggested that a letter be sent to the Recreation Committee asking that they locate the rink elsewhere.

Jim Banda: Out of our jurisdiction. The Planning Board should stick to planning - we gave up the handling of parks, etc., and shouldn't get involved. But I go along with you 100% in that there should be no skating on the Common.

Gillis: Make them aware that it is a serious thing - we are talking, in our planning, about spending money on playgrounds.

Bloom: If you want to find fault, then propose an alternate place for skating.

Rounds: Perhaps in back of the Swain School.

Gillis moved that the Planning Board send a letter to the Recreation Commission asking that an alternative site be considered. No one seconded the motion.

Austin Rounds then read a letter from Attorney Alan Altman, saying that he represented Avco, and that the firm was hoping to rezone the property where the Herbert Barrows home had formerly stood, into Industrial Property.

Baland Road

Baland Road, in N Wilmington, is still bonded, from the time of its construction in the mid 1950's. The bonding firm is anxious to have the business come to an end.

Danny Gillis had been doing some investigating, and reported that in June 1958 the board had sent a letter to the developer, Mr. Wolsey, pointing out that he had not completed the sidewalk program, nor the loaming program.

Books

Chairman Rounds discussed two books, copies of which Planner Sam Snow had got for all members, and said that one copy of each is being sent to the Public Library, with a 'covering' letter. One of these is The Citizen's Guide to Planning, and the other, The Citizen's Guide to Zoning.

The meeting ended at 12:30 am.

Letter

Dear Larz:

Once again I want to thank you for the coverage your paper gave our Drum & Bugle Corps competition. The pictures & display were excellent, but, as last year, financially it was a flop, due to not enough paid attendance. We had a paid gate of $556. The cost for putting on this competition came to a total of $2,205.40, including custodial services, groundskeepers, judges, prize money, trophies & food for the concessions. Our income from the concessions was $804.40. This competition put us in a hole again, for $664.51, and in 2 years has caused us to lose a total of almost $1200.

This is what amazes us, in that you can see four hours of entertainment of this calibre for the amount of $1. These corps number approximately 1200 boys & girls, they are getting ready for the September competitions, after the circuit finals, and work hard to get ready for the competitions, so you can see that the preparation takes longer than in most activities.

If these corps could place first in every contest, it would not pay all their costs of operating for the year. Our own instructors cost for the Swordsmen & Crusaders alone, add up to $50 a week, with our Color Guard instructor, Betty Crowell and our marching instructor, Dave Collins donating their time to the Crusaders. You can see we have to depend on profit from these competitions to help us carry through the year.

Because of our loss of Aug. 8th we have to resort to other ways to pay off our debts, so the boys and girls have taken it upon themselves to earn this money by selling chances and cakes, and any other way they can use their labor. If the people reject their efforts then the two corps will have to suffer.

We also run a DRUMS (blitz) party every Tuesday night at the Grange Hall to help support the Corps. The prizes are good and will get better as the following increases. If we could get enough people over the age of 18 to play DRUMS every week we could eventually carry almost all the cost of the two corps; but many people think the boys and girls run it, and will not attend.

To set this idea right: - The DRUMS parties are being run by adults, headed by Mr. and Mrs. James Shine, who originally set them up. All the workers are adults, who are there for the benefit of the children, and receive no financial reward. I might at that there is no one who receives any money for services to the corps, excepting instructors, and the school custodians for the schools we rent.

If there is any question as to the merits of a Drum Corps as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency, let the questioner call the CYO headquarters and ask Monsignor Carroll, who heads the CYO council, and, it might be added, most of the drum corps in the area.

We ask that if a boy or a girl from either the Swordsmen or the Crusaders ask you to help by buying a cake, or chances, or whatever they will have to offer, please help as much as possible, and if anyone likes to play Blitz, you will enjoy the well run and equipped DRUMS on Tuesday evenings.

May we also add here that the end of a competition season is fast approaching, (September) and that if anyone from 8 to 20 would like to join either corps they will be welcome, anytime from now on, as we all get ready again for another season next year. Let's keep the youth organization alive.

Great Detective

Postmaster Henry Porter almost had a crime on his hands Tuesday afternoon, but then, in true detective fashion, he solved it before it became a crime.

There was a telephone call from a lady living at 80 Grove Ave. A man was fooling with one of Uncle Sam's mailboxes, and he was using a crowbar!

The Gendarmes were notified, and in the true spirit of an all-out postmaster, Henry noted the time, and sat down and wrote an account of everything he knew, for the time when Uncle Sam's Postal Inspectors came, magnifying glass in hand.

While Henry was writing a message came from the Gendarmes. Nothing had happened.

Then Jimmy Downes, the Post Office janitor and handy-man came in.

Henry looked at Jimmy. Some where a light dawned. He had sent Jimmy down to fix a mailbox on Adams Street.

Where have you been? was the question.

Oh, said Jimmy, I finished that job on Adams Street, so I went up on Grove Avenue, and tightened a bolt in the mail box up there, tool

A TAXI RIDE TO NEW YORK WOULD HAVE BEEN CHEAPER

Three Wilmington boys should have hired a taxi, and gone to the World's Fair in New York, instead of 'borrowing' trucks from the Valley News Company, at midnight. They would have saved money, even if the return trip was by taxi too.

The boys were the ones who were reported in last week's issue of the Town Crier, one of them, it turned out afterwards, had gone out into the swamp, up to his neck, to avoid the police dogs at the time of their capture.

Paul Foley, John Robbins, and Wayne Bouchard paid $100 apiece, in fines, last Friday, when they faced Judge Francis Cullen in Woburn Court.

The maid of honor was Miss Sheila E. Manning, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Patricia E. Manning and Andrea S. Manning, both sisters of the bride, and Donna Fenlon, sister of the groom.

A. Robert Fleming of Tewksbury was the best man, and Howard Giroux of Tewksbury, Daniel J. Bemis of Wilmington, and John Geary of Charlestown were ushers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's gown was of silk organza with chantilly lace bordering a Sabrina neckline and the hemline of the bouffant skirt and chapel train. Lace also graced the skirt front from waist to hem, and a gossamer sheer English silk illusion veil was caught to an open crown of imported orange blossoms. She carried daisies, ivy and stephanotis.

The maid of honor wore a maize linen A-line gown with scooped neckline, and lantern sleeves. The waistline and sleeves were accented with velvet ribbon. The bridesmaids were gowned in similar silhouettes of mint green linen. The attendants' headpieces were matching velvet bows to which were attached butterfly veils, and they all carried identical arm bouquets of yellow and white carnations and daisies.

A reception was held in the VFW Hall, Haverhill. Mrs. Walter O'Brien of Haverhill, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the Guest Book, and the Velvetones Band provided music for the guests. The hall was decorated with daisies and white streamers.

The mother of the bride chose a rose-beige lace dress with medium brown straw hat and accessories. Her corsage was of apricot tea roses.

For her wedding trip to Northern New England and Canada, the new Mrs. Fenlon chose a two piece loden colored linen dress worn with beige accessories for her going away ensemble.

The newlyweds have returned to their home at 175 W. Wyoming Avenue, Melrose.

The bride was graduated from St. James High School, Haverhill and received her B.A. Degree from Merrimack College, North Andover. She has done graduate work at the U. of Mass., and is employed by the New England Nuclear Corporation.

The bridegroom was graduated from Wilmington High School and is now a student at Bentley College. He is a member of the US Army Reserves.
